Ex-Boiler Maker Takes Life Easy | Peoria Omaha While Promoters Search for A Worthy Opponent.

Although He Has Fought Colored Men. He Now Declares That He Draws the Line.

Who has a chance in the ring with James J. Jeffries, heavyweight champion of the world? Is there a single fighter in the world today who has the ability to take from him his title? Is the coming champion now toiling away at some task as Jeffries did in the boiler works when Jim Corbett whipped old John L.

These questions are agitating the fight fans in Sait Lake and elsewhere, but time alone will answer them. It is generally believed by those who follow the game that he is in a class by himself. Just before his second defeat of Bob Fitzsimons, Lou Houseman, manager for Jack Root, was in Sait Lake, and said to the "News;"

"In my opinion, Jeffries will whip the old man inside of 10 rounds. I do not believe the man lives who has a chance against the big fellow. He is in a class all to himself, and I believe it will take an entirely new generation of fighters to whip him." Practically every ring follower in the country now shares that opinion.

nion. Now that the big fellow has proved

Now that the big fellow has proved himself invincible among the best of them, he is taking life easy while fight prometers are scouring the world in the hope of finding a man who would be a worthy opponent.

Although ready to meet all comers, Jeffries draws the color line, and, like many of his predecessors, the champion says he will not consider a match with a negro fighter. Jeffries has fought colored men in his ring career. He met and defeated Jeter Jackson, but as there are no colored boxers that have any claim on the championship the champion's refusal will not make much difference. In looking over the field for a man who has a possible chance to beat Jeffries there is no aspirant who stands out. In fact, Jeffries has gone down the line and

In looking over the field for a man who has a possible chance to beat Jeffries there is no aspirant who stamas out. In fact, Jeffries has gone down the line, and he has numbered among his victims in his brief career some of the greatest fighters that the world has ever seen. If there is a man who can defeat Jeffries he is not known to the public.

Sharkey, who has proved himself a glutton for punishment, and who fought the champion 25 rounds, was considered a dangcrous competitor, but since his battle at Coney Island, Sharkey has been defeated by Ruhlin, who in turn was badly beaten by Jeffries at San Francisco.

Jeffries has shown that he can defeat the clever boxer as well as dispose of the slugger and hard hitter. Fitzsimmons, with his mighty solar plexus blow, was never able to do any serious damage to the champion in either of his battles. Sharkey fought like a demon for 25 rounds, but the big boilermaker finished the sinal round under a pull none the worse of the terrific exchange of blows. Corbett has had two trials, and although he made a game battle each time he was unequal to the task and went down the same as those who came before him.

In fact, all of the present aspirants for heavyweight honors have had two trials at the big boilermaker. Corbett fought Jeffries twice. Fitzsimmons had two chances. Sharkey faced the champion in two hard-fought battles, and Ruhlin also entered the ring twice with the Californian. None of these is looked upon as dangerous, and the sporting world is wondering who will be the next champion.

When Corbett took the championship beit away from poor old John L. Jeffries was nonsidered a boxer, and even when he steped into the ring with Fitzsimmons at Carson City that Jeffries was considered a boxer, and even when he steped into the ring with Fitzsimmons at Carson City that Jeffries was considered a boxer, and even when he steped into the ring with Fitzsimmons at Carson City that Jeffries was considered a boxer, and even when he steped into the ring with Fitzsimmons at Carson ew expected him to carry off the pionship.

It since Corbett was put out the mag men have been discussing the ble make up of the man who can Jeffries' measure. Such men as the Considine, Eddie Burke, Joe Vennad Al Smith have come to the connitration as the constant who is able to take the measure must have the same erful physique and hitting powers as mamplon.

TRIED TO BEAT RECORD.

Dan Patch Tried to Bent 1.59 Mark But 2.00 Flat Was the Best. wards the presentation to Sir Thomas Paul, Minn., Aug. 31.-Sixteen thousand people saw Dan Patch unsuccessfully attempt to lower his world's record at the state fair grounds today. Despite the fact that the great pacer had gone against time at Readville, Mass., and had been almost continuously on the cars until today, he went a mile in two minutes today. The weather was ideal, being warm with scarcely a breeze stirring, and the track was in first class condition. After being sent a warming up mile in 2:104, Dan Patch, accompanied by his running mate, Old Mike, appeared for his trial against time. At the second scoring McHenry nodded for the word and the stallion was off, covering the ground in long, easy strides. The first quarter was gone in 30 seconds, the next in 294, making the half in 594. Around the far turn the runner slackened his speed a trifle, and Patch did the third quarter in 304. Coming into the stretch Patch showed a magnificent burst of speed, and with McHenry fairly lifting him along the last quarter was done in 29½ and the mile in fact that the great pacer had gone

DID DILLON BEAT 2 MINUTE MARK?

Two Prominent Turfmen Declare Billings Horse Went in Less Time.

WILL TRY TO MAKE IT IN 1:59.

Monroe Sailbury and John Shepard Caught Famous Mare in 1:59 1-2 and 1:59 3-4, but Judges Said 2:00 Flat

Lou Dillon's wonderful mile at Readville a week ago yesterday is the talk wherever horsemen congregate. It is a known fact that, while three judges in the stand were unanimous in placing her time at 2:00 flat, such old timers as Monroe Salis-bury and John Shepard caught it under the two-minute mark. Mr. Salisbury has timed horses for many years and his honesty is unquestioned. He says he timed the mare all right and she went the mile in 1:59%, and Mr. Shepard says he caught

When asked about these times Driver Sanders said both men have large experience in that line, but he is perfectly satisfied with the time given by he judges.

"There is this satisfaction about the outside timing," he said. "It leaves no possible chance of there being any doubt about the record, for all others who timed the mare either caught her as the timed the mare either caught her as the judges did or were under 2:00."
Sanders said when he started on the trial he went the first quarter an eighth of a second faster than he had desired the mare to go. The second quarter was just as he planned it, and the third was again an eighth faster than he had calculated to go. The lst quarter was faster than he had expected, and the last eighth was in 14, or at the rate of 1:52 for a mile. HORSE LIKES TO GO FAST.

HORSE LIKES TO GO FAST.

"I never during the race urged the mare at any time except just at the beginning of the last of the third course. Then she responded wonderfully and was going, it seemed to me, faster than at any other time in the race. The peculiar thing about Lou Dillon is that she likes to go fast. If I seld her along at a 2:40 clip I have to hold her back, and she frets and is inclined to show temper. She is the same at 2:30 and 2:20 gaits, but if I allow her to go at a 2:10 or 2:0s gait she is happy and seems to like the work.

"She seems ambitious and to want to go for speed all the time. She is sound as a nut and in as good condition this morning after her great effort as she was when I brought her out from California. With conditions just as perfect and the mare in prime condition I feel she can yet better the mark she made yesterday. You see, she is heart whole, for she has never sufferd a disappointment and is sound and young.

"She was going at the end of the mile young.

"She was going at the end of the mile faster than at any other time during the race, yet she was never pushed to the limit. These are facts which make me look for even better things from her."

John Shepard said: "It is a wonderful achievement by a wonderful mare—a record which I believe will stand for many years unless broken by Lou Dillon herself. No other horse living can approach it."

BELIEVE SHE CAN BEAT IT. BELIEVE SHE CAN BEAT IT.

Jack Curry, who drove Alix to her record, said: "She is a marvel and neither you nor I will live to see her beaten."

Frank B. Walker, starter of the race, said: "It was as clean a performance as I ever sw. The mare finished almost as fresh as she started. I feel free to predict that, while her time will be beaten by no other horse in the world, she is kely to lower her own record."

Judd Doble: "A beautiful performance an a surprise to most people, I had sized up to Dillon as a winner, but I did not that she would lower the record to 2:00. The is no horse in the world today which can proach her."

L-would have been satisfied. But this mare really does more than is asked of her whenever she starts.

"She was in grand form Monday, probably due to her effort at Brighton Beach. Her fast three-quarters there seemed to key her up to a mighty ffort, and once given the word she seemed to have no limit to her speed.

"The effort did not strain her in the least, and she is as sound as she ever was in her life. After the mile I took particular attention to see if the mare was distressed, but I must confess that she did no seem the least disturbed. The mile was rated to perfection, as was shown by the fractional times of the mile. Her greatest burst of speed was shown in the last part of the mile, when she was given her head. The last quarter was trotted in 25 seconds and the final eighth in It seconds, the fastest eighth of the entire mile. The manner in which Lou Dillon accomplished her wonderful feat has convinced me that she can step a mile in 1:59.

"I think the mare has done all that we will ask her to do this year to sulky. There is such a thing as giving a good horse too much, and we will not take any chances with the mare. I think she has done pretty well for a five-year-old.
"Next year, providing nothing happens in the meantime, Lou Dillon will continue to go after the record. She is improving all the time, and when she has developed to a greater extent and has another year's experience, we can jook for her to improve upon her world's record."
